

ON BOTH SEGREGATION ORDINANCES. Election Tues. Feb. 29, Polls Open 6 a.m. to 7 p.m.

MRS. JAS. T. COLE IS PEERLESS QUEEN

Wife of Well Known Citizen Wins Popular Voting Contest Which Ended Monday Night. Mrs. Violet Gray Was Second; Mrs. Nettie Galloway Third. Mademoiselle Daniels and Gregory Finished Fourth and Fifth Respectively in the Race.

One of the most exciting voting contests ever staged in St. Louis was brought to a close Monday night at Pythian Hall when after a grueling two months' race, Mrs. James T. Cole of 3506 Francis Avenue was declared the winner in the field of eight contestants. Mrs. Violet Gray of 2111 Laclede Avenue, was second, and Mrs. Nettie Galloway of 417 S. Garrison Avenue, was third.

During the early hours of the evening, the annual ball of the Benevolent Order of Peerless Knights and while the many friends and followers of this popular organization always attend its public functions the main feature of Monday night was the final of the popular voting contest which has been going on for the past two weeks.

During the early hours of the evening, while Prof. Wm. Flower's eight-piece orchestra dispensed strains of sweet and enchanting music, the contestants mingled with the guests and their friends in quest of votes, men waited under the wings of shamingly attired ladies and welcomed the strangers of their purses in response to the desire to all their friends in the contest.

Presently at eleven o'clock, Exalted Prelate W. H. King announced that the counting of ballots would commence and at his order, the seven ladies in the contest, with their assistants, repaired to the offices of the Grand Chancellor on the second floor. (It is fitting to remark at this juncture that when the contest was first launched, there were eight ladies entered, but owing to severe illness, Mrs. Jessie Grinstead was compelled to withdraw.)

As the hands of the clock pointed to the midnight hour Exalted Prelate W. H. King in a short speech introduced Attorney General S. Phillips, who in turn made the presentation speech to the winner of the contest, and at the close of his remarks, on behalf of Othello Lodge No. 7, Benevolent Order of Peerless Knights, he presented the winner with a handsome

SEGREGATION IN CONSTITUTIONAL MANY PHASES BEING PRESENTED

Supreme Court Estimates In Opinion Written by Judge Henry W. Bond. That Law Would be Declared Unconstitutional. Initiative Clause is Declared Legal.

The Supreme Court of Missouri went on the way in the decision upholding the validity of the initiative provisions of the new city charter, last Monday, to indicate that what would be the fate of the proposed segregation ordinances should they be adopted and come before that tribunal for adjudication. The opinion was written by Judge Bond and holds that the initiative provided for in the charter can only be exercised by the people after the Board of Aldermen has failed or refused to make the legislation which the people desire. This he holds, is not an existing legislation, independent of the "house of legislation" required by the constitution of Missouri, Sec. 23 of Article IX.

At the outset the court makes it clear that the proposed segregation ordinances are not before the court and are not being passed. Judge Bond said in this regard: "The question of the constitutionality of these laws (segregation laws) is not, therefore, now presented for decision; for during the process of legislation in any mode the work of the law-makers is not subject to judicial arrest or control, nor open to judicial inquiry." After stating that they may be properly brought before the court for review and determination if they will have been passed, the court proceeds to indicate their fate on the following language:

"Nor can it be doubted what judgment would be given if it were shown that a law had been enacted in violation of the fundamental principle upon which the government of the state and nation is founded, or destructive of the legal rights of person or property of any citizen or class of citizens of the United States. For it must be borne in mind that no citizen of this state has any legal or political right which does not belong to every other who has not forfeited it by conviction of crime."

The intimation clearly shows the position the Supreme Court will take if the initiative is brought up to it for consideration. St. Louis can ill afford to defy the Constitution by voting in favor of segregation next Tuesday. That its future resurrection will be so definitely inhibited, the polls will be open from 6 a. m. to 7 p. m. on SATURDAY FEBRUARY 29 on both ordinances.

DEARER RIGHT TO ADOPT HER MULLATO DAUGHTER

Evansville, Ind., Feb. 24.—Clifford Yachowich, 43 years old, a Polish Jew, said to be a wealthy grain broker living at Palatka, Tenn., appeared with his attorney, W. C. Verrier, before Judge Dennis C. Givens yesterday and asked the privilege of adopting Eugene, a mulatto girl, 17 years of age, saying the child is his daughter.

A petition signed by the mother of the girl giving her name as Mrs. A. Yachowich was placed on the witness stand and talked freely. He said he wanted to right a wrong done many years ago and give her his name, to which she is entitled.

"I have plenty of money and can take good care of her," he told the court. "I brought $40,000 with me to Evansville."

Judge Givens said he could not see anything in the petition. He said it would be the same thing as sanctioning the marrying of white and black, and this he could not do.

Yachowich left the courtroom completely very much disappointed.

Y.M.C.A. MEN TO GET SUGGESTIONS ON HOW TO FIGHT

The Sunday afternoon Men's Meeting of the Y. M. C. A. is to be a protest meeting against the segregation law which is about to be enacted. Four prominent speakers have been secured to speak on segregation from four different angles. Dr. J. T. Gaston and Dr. Stevens, who have been prominent in the fight that the ministers have put up with, Mr. Geo. B. Vaughn, who has been prominent in the fight that the National Association has made against the law, and Mr. Geo. L. Vaughn, who has so well handled the legal side of our protest, will be the speakers. The plan is to suggest to the men who attend this meeting a practical program of work covering Monday and Tuesday, and the committee, which has charge of this meeting expects that the usual large number of men will be present to hear these speakers and to co-operate in carrying out the plan which will be suggested. This meeting is open to all men who desire to register a manly protest. The meeting will be held at Pythian Hall, Sunday afternoon, at 4 o'clock.

On Sunday, February 13, about two hundred men attended the Y. M. C. A. meeting and heard the splendid reports which were made by Mr. McAlister and Mr. Williams on the buildings which they had visited. The enthusiasm of the workers who were present was high and they went on record that they would raise $10,000 by the 15th of March. It was a great meeting and showed that the interest of the men had not diminished one bit since the campaign. The report that $4,000 had already been paid in brought forth applause and the men left with the determination to make the old "Y" go and to get a new building.

FLYING IN THE FACE OF THE CONSTITUTION

Trampling the charter of our liberties in the dust seems to be the policy of much American legislation whenever they start out to ransack the temple of Negro liberty.

The two segregation ordinances are not only violations of the American Constitution, but they are dastard outrages upon that document. The Constitution says: "All persons born or naturalized in the United States are citizens of the United States and of the State wherein they reside." These "all persons" are Negroes as well as whites, for the American Constitution nowhere draws a color or race line. Then the Constitution, for the protection of the citizens it creates, lays down a very emphatic law against civil and political proscription. It declares that "NO STATE SHALL MAKE OR ENFORCE ANY LAW WHICH SHALL ABRIDGE THE PRIVILEGES OR IMMUNITIES OF CITIZENS OF THE UNITED STATES." The Negro is a citizen of the United States, and, as such, you cannot abridge his rights without violating the Constitution.

You cannot abridge the Negro's right to acquire, enjoy and dispose of his property without trampling the organic laws of our country into the dust.

There is not even a circumvention that can lead to a different result. There is nothing plainer than the absence in our Constitution of all race proscription, or even an allusion to races, and therefore, any law which grants or denies certain privileges to white men that it does not to colored men, and vice versa, has a rotten and unconstitutional basis. It is racial prejudices that are the cause of racial proscription legislation. Those prejudices can only be enforced in America by white men. They need to be checked. The far-sighted framers of our Constitution refused to put one iota of them in our organic law. The framers spoke of the inalienable rights of man; of all persons who are citizens possessing unbridled and unbridgeable rights; of all persons being entitled to due process of law and equal protection, and of placing into the hands of all persons the Constitutional destiny of life, liberty and happiness. There is neither vice nor virtue in color; there is in conduct. Deprivation of privileges means punishment, and punishment cannot be administered unless for offense or crime. Though Judge Bond, in his Supreme Court decision, allowed that the initiative method of legislation was constitutional, he nevertheless intimated that the segregation law was unconstitutional, and the majority of the State Supreme bench agreed with him informally.

Therefore why should the people vote for an unconstitutional law, and hence put the people to shame for their ignorance and the State to expense and trouble for the long spell of litigation that it would necessarily undergo. We might as well tear our national Constitution into tatters as to legislate under it such vile and outrageous laws as the segregation now pending.

We believe in demolishing racial and religious prejudices; we stand with the great statesmen of America in opposing class legislation, and we long for the day when the United States will stop its continuous and proscription legislation against the Negro, which is only persecution, and turn its eyes to the star of destiny which beckons it to higher peaks to be sealed in the moral and industrial world.

The Argus has received several hundred letters commending it for the unhesitating fight it has made against segregation. We are appreciative of these kind words, and now that the fight is about over and victory apparently at hand we repeat our former declaration—The St. Louis Argus stands for the right and defense of the Negro. We allow no favors or prejudices to influence us in our course. We stand on the rock of truth and shall continue to lead in all matters looking for the betterment of colored people. We have faith in the Negro and his ultimate success. The Argus will go side by side with the Negro as he climbs the mountain and at its peak you will see the Argus flag unfurled.

It has added much to the Negro's faith in the Republican party to see that the Republican City Committee has committed itself against segregation. In its meeting Wednesday night it passed a resolution saying that the proposed segregation ordinances were unwise, unfair and will bring on costly litigation. With the Republican organization in line, victory is assured.

Segregation is not a social question. Does a man become your social equal because he lives or walks through the same street?

O. M. SHACKELFORD

Author of "Lillian Simmons," An Appreciation by Chas. A. Stokes (From the Kansas City Star, Sunday). The story of "Lillian Simmons" ruckes down in the farthest depths of sociology for its race contrasts and brings to light the exactness of Southern and Northern temperament as experienced among colored people. The author has probably found his real niche in character portrayal, for his effort in "Lillian Simmons" is decidedly a happy one. He has pooled the dial a little higher toward the zenith of instruction and ethical action for the Black American. This story is the actually lived one, with that consciousness of realism which grips with its facts and elevates with its bettered romance. Every bit of sans philosophy interspersed throughout the whole narrative is attuned with living demonstrations by persons and conditions around which the story clings. Conflicting opinions seem to be justified by different prevailing conditions of the North and South. But the moral of the book seems to say in the characterization of "Charles Christopher" that mankind, industry and noble aspiration will win out every time and in any place, for colored people if they will work faithfully. The author's characters are just what the reading public needs and is bound to delight in, namely: intelligent, dignified, thoughtful human beings. "Lillian Simmons" is no ordinary person and is shown to the reader as a beautiful, brown-skinned girl with plenty of soul, a noble heart and with a lovely aspiration as poet or author could conceive. This book should be in every colored home.

Mr. Shackelford is now placing his book in St. Louis and suburban towns. We hope the citizens of St. Louis will book Chas. Shackelford in his effort to split the race and dignity in its literature.

A great number of visitors were present at the Sunday-school. Rev. Ginnens and Rev. Brown gave interesting talks on segregation. February 29 has been set apart as a day of prayer. Our church will be open all day.

METROPOLITAN NOTES

Last Sunday was a typical church-going day. And the Metropolitan A. M. E. Zion Church was full to the brim, morning and evening. The Rev. Dr. John W. Brown, two wonderful sermons. Twenty-three persons united with the church. It was nothing less than a beautiful sight to see so many fine, well-dressed young men and women gathering morning and evening to hear that wonderful gospel preacher, Rev. Dr. Brown. We think his congregation Sunday morning if touched by magic. His bits of wit and humor at times, keep his people on their tip toes as to what is next. This is a wonderful church with its many paries.

Mrs. Taylor, with Domestic Art, is building up a great sewing circle. Her class in the Metropolitan church every Thursday and Friday, is the place to come to get all of the fine art of needle work. And the best of it is that it costs you nothing.

Professor Frank L. Williams delivered his first series of lectures last Thursday night on Home Economics. He spoke to a large number of anxious hearers. The gentlemen's lecture room was well lighted and you could have seen the members of the class whispering one to another at the close, "That's the thing we need. How to buy for the home and rightly spend our husbands' money."

You ought to see the Domestic Science department of this wonderful educational church. Mrs. E. J. Zell is in her scientific way, is giving to her students the much-needed instruction along lines of cooking. I am sure you will be able to reduce the number of failures from indignation.

—Get rid of dandruff—

it makes the scalp itch and the hair fall out. Be wise about your hair, cultivate it, like the women in Paris do. They regularly use

ED. PINAUD'S EAU DE QUININE

the wonderful French Hair Tonic. Try it for yourself. Note its exquisite quality and fragrance. Aristocratic men and women the world over use and endorse this famous preparation. It keeps the scalp clean and white and preserves the youthful brilliancy of the hair.
Buy a 50c bottle from your dealer—or send 10c to our American Offices for a testing bottle. Above all things don't neglect your hair.
